CHRISTINA AGUILERA'S RED SIN FRAGRANCE CAMPAIGN

Sultry singer Christina Aguilera has the perfect complement for Your Body—her newest fragrance, Red Sin! "I believe red is more than just a color," reveals The Voice coach. "Wearing red can evoke emotions and make you feel sexy and confident." Sophisticate's Hairstyle Guide talked with celebrity makeup artist Kristofer Buckle, who gave Christina her Red Sin bombshell look...

Christina is not a girl who skimps—she really loves to indulge in the decadence of makeup. She feels really empowered by a red lip. I call it boudoir glam! Christina loves a full coverage foundation, so we started her look with Laura Mercier Creme Smooth Foundation in Golden Beige. Then I used Kevyn Aucoin's The Sensual Skin Enhancer as a concealer. It was two shades lighter than the foundation and I applied that around Christina's eyes and mouth—I do that when I'm creating a dramatic look so the eye and lip shades pop!

On Christina's cheeks, I used Hotel Heiress bronzer by Tarte to contour underneath her cheekbones and across her forehead. I used iridescent pale gold eyeshadow on the top of her cheekbones to add a glow. As far as blush, I used La Femme blush in Coral Flame.

The eyeshadow is not very blended. We wanted it to look deliberate. I used Blacktrack by M.A.C. gel liner and winged it out at the end, and I applied Maybelline LashBlast Mascara on her lashes. I also applied two pairs of false lashes—I like to mix two different styles of lashes, like a spiky one and a fluffy one, to get really cool, lush effects.

The lips are Christina's signature red. It's LipSense in Blu-Red—it's a color that you almost paint on—it gives you a perfect, smooth edge. Before applying Blu-Red, I used Nars lipliner in Jungle Red to line and fill in her lip, and I then I applied the color. When you rock a dramatic lipstick, wearing a long-wearing lipliner is really important because it will hold your shape—you get it right once and then you don't have to worry about it.

SOMETIMES ALL YOU NEED IS RED. Red Sin. The irresistible new fragrance by Christina Aguilera.
